Huge bouquets of white and red flowers were placed at intervals of a few feet all around the inner edge of the board, and graceful garlands of white clematis connected them. A huge American and a Japanese flag hung directly back of the host and his guests of honor, and flags were otherwise employed in decorating the room.

WITNESS IN DIVORCE CASE IS DETAINED

Milton Duval Failed to Register, Is Report.

When Milton Duval took the stand yesterday afternoon in the District Supreme Court as a witness in a divorce court he had no idea he was making a pot of trouble for himself.

Duval is 23 years of age and, under examination, admitted that he had not registered. Chief Deputy United States Marshal J. F. Spain who was in the court room, heard the statement and got ready to take charge of Duval when his testimony was in.

He is now in the custody of United States Attorney John E. Lasky until he can be taken to the Federal House of Detention. He is charged with perjury in his story of the alleged failure to register can be substantiated. He told Mr. Lasky that he was born here in 1898 and that his family later moved to Lynchburg, Va. Returning to this city, he gave his age as 23 to get a job on the street cars because he feared that he would be turned down if he gave his right age.

Wife Charges Cruelty In Seeking Divorce

A long list of cruelties, among which is the use of a loaded shotgun held threateningly against her, the bringing of cyanide of potassium into the house to put in food and the poisoning of her engagement ring are enumerated by Cecelia V. Brooke in a suit for maintenance filed yesterday in the District Supreme Court against Lloyd A. Brooke, an employe of the navy yard. They were married in July 1916, but have lived apart since May 17 last.

Mrs. Brooke also accuses her husband of losing his money at the race track and of unjust suspicions concerning her conduct and of being intensely jealous of her friends.

Among the inventions promulgated will be one that provides aerial stations for aviators, the seers declare. It is the influence of Uranus over Venus to which may be attributed many feminine vagaries, astrologers declare, and while the planet sometimes distorts judgment, it gives courage and daring.

This is not a favorable day for women and business transactions with them are not likely to be lucky. Weddings may not be fortunate under this rule of the stars.

From the last day of summer the seers look forward to an autumn marked by startling events in which there is a steady growth of peace sentiment.

The President has the prognostication of dissension or disagreements around him in official circles and may meet many anxieties in September. Congressmen have the forecast of many troubles with constituents and numerous changes in the next election are indicated.

A fame for a woman who will accomplish some great feat of heroism is foretold for October. Persons whose birthdate it is should be careful to avoid quarrels or accidents. Travel or change that may not be satisfactory is probable.

Children born on this day may be high-strung and lacking in concentration. These subjects of Virgo are usually very fortunate and successful, but a girl may marry a man kind, but unfortunate.
